Reverend Edward F. Ward

Dedication

The great principle of oratory is that heart speaks to heart. In other words it is intensity, and deep sincerity which makes the most lasting impression. This is as true in the classroom as it is in the pulpit or on the public platform, and for our four years here at Cheverus we of the class of 1940 have been thus impressed by Father Ward. Whether it was in the classroom where he unveiled for us the glories of Cicero's oratory or Virgil's epic, or in his position as faculty of Athletics, he brought to his work a heart that was on fire. We will never forget his talks at Athletic rallies. He it was who convinced us that in the very ideals upon which a Catholic school is founded, we have an inspiration which should make us second to none. In dedicating our book to Father Edward F. Ward, we give him our pledge that we will strive always to bring to our own life's work an intense sincerity like unto his, and a faithful adherence to the ideals he has given us by his own word and example.

LADISLAUS KAZILIONIS

LEONARD FRANCIS AHERN, "Hernie"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Commercial Club, III, II; Glee Club, III, II, I; Dramatics, III.

Quiet and unassuming, "Hernie" has nevertheless endeared himself to the Commercial Class. It is quite likely that he will succeed Bill Robinson if his rug cutting continues. Always a gentleman this lad provides an example of courtesy for future Cheverus students to follow. "Hernie" deserves to go far in the business world.

GEORGE EDWARD BOYD, "Ed"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Commercial Club, IV, III; Glee Club, III; League of Sacred Heart, IV, III, II, I.

The general good humor of "Ed" is conceded by everyone. His humorous outlook, and the fact that he is always trying to find out "something new" form a combination which will stand him in good stead. This urge to discover shows that "the farmer" may yet pioneer on some new frontier. Who knows? Because of his will to work when the time arises, "Ed" is sure to be a big success in life. Best of luck, "Ed."

JOHN JOSEPH BUCKLEY, "Buck"

CLASSICAL COURSE

Debating, IV, III; Cheer Leader, IV, III; Dramatics, IV, III; Vox Discipulorum, IV, III; CLARION, IV; Senior Class Play, IV, III.

Cheverus's unofficial ambassador of good will is a title which aptly describes this tall, blond lad. John is one of those fortunate fellows who seems able to attend all the social functions and still participate in school activities and keep close to the top in his class. His smiling countenance and jovial nature will not soon be forgotten.

JOSEPH STANLEY BUTKIS, "Joe"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Commercial Club, IV, III, II; League of Sacred Heart, IV, III; CLARION Business Staff, IV; Football, IV.

"Joe" is a cheerful fellow, the kind you like to have in a classroom. He is industrious in his studies as well as in sports. He likes football and played center for the team this year. We hope that the world will see his real value hidden under a veil of modesty and self-effacement.

JOHN GREGORY CLANCY, "J. G."

CLASSICAL COURSE

Valedictorian; CLARION, IV, III, II, I; Editor-in-Chief, IV; Vox Discipulorum, IV, III, II, I; Editor-in-Chief, IV; Debating, IV, III, II; Bates Interscholastic Debating League, IV; Dramatics, IV, II; Club Secretary, II; Senior Class Play; Riding Club, IV, III, II; Club President, IV, III; French Club, IV; French Librarian, IV; Subscription Committee, IV; Glee Club, II, I; Junior Class Treasurer; League of the Sacred Heart, IV, III, II, I.

John is a perfect example of the gentlemanly scholar, whether he is in class or just "with the fellows." His scholastic record and participation in extra-curricular activities stand alone. John is extremely likable, has an ingratiating personality, and is possessed of a sparkling sense of humor. This is the young man who we know will succeed in whatever occupation he may engage. The Purple and Gold is proud of such graduates.

JOHN THOMAS CLOWER, "Johnnie"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Commercial Club, IV, III; League of Sacred Heart, III, II; Banking, IV; Vox Discipulorum, IV; CLARION, IV.

"Johnnie" is another conspicuous student of this year's class. His character and scholastic abilities are of the highest degree. Although a rather retiring chap, he is, however, solicitious about his studies. Repeatedly his name was observed on the honor roll during the terms. He is our idea of a model student. Keep it up, "Johnnie," and you'll be a model business man.

EDMUND JOSEPH CONLEY, "Ed"

CLASSICAL COURSE

French Club, IV; Commercial Club, II; Football, III; League of Sacred Heart, IV, III.

"Ed" has a jovial and likeable disposition. His consistency in school work has built for him a strong foundation, with which he may climb to greater heights in the near future. May you be as successful in your chosen profession, "Ed," as you have been here at Cheverus.

HERMENE LEON COOK, "Cooky"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Commercial Club, IV, III; Junior Holy Name Society, III, II; Dramatics, I; Glee Club, II.

"Cooky" is another of our students with a dual personality. His comical expressions and humorous answers have been a source of enjoyment to all during his stay at the home of the fighting Irish. When serious work is at hand, "Cooky" is always one of the most consistent scholars. With his commercial foundation we know he will go far in the world of business.

JAMES FRANCIS COYNE, "Jimmy"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Football, IV, III; Baseball, IV; Glee Club, II, I; Intramural Basketball, IV, III.

"Jim" is an energetic worker of the commercial class. Although quiet and unassuming he never lacks the spirit when it comes to doing something for the betterment of the school. "Jim" with his jovial manner and willingness to work will always be welecome wherever he decides to go. Keep up your good work, "Jim."

THOMAS ALOYSIUS COYNE, "Dido"

CLASSICAL COURSE

Honor Essay, IV; CLARION, IV; Vox Discipulorum, IV; Public Speaking, III, II, I; Debating, IV, III; Dramatics, IV, II; Senior Class Play, IV; League of Sacred Heart, IV, III, II, I; Golf Team, IV, III; Subscription Committee, IV.

"Dodo" is a student definitely of the highest bracket. He is a serious and hardworking lad and does everything he undertakes with a perfection all his own. Adding to these qualities his genial disposition, it is but natural that he is both esteemed as a scholar and held high in popularity.

FRANCIS JOSEPH CROZIER, "Bulldog"

CLASSICAL COURSE

CLARION, Alumni Editor, IV; Vox Discipulorum, Assistant Editor, IV; Debating, IV; Public Speaking, III, II, I; French Club, IV; League of Sacred Heart, IV, III, II, I.

"Frankie's" devotion to Cheverus has always been the paramount characteristic which he has exhibited and at which we have marvelled for four years. "Frank" is our master mathematician and debater who never has failed to wage a poignant battle, strewing his speechless opponents by the inglorious wayside. A successful future is practically assured him because of his unremitting agressiveness and sincerity.

MAURICE EDWARD DENBOW, "Moe"

CLASSICAL COURSE

"C" Club, IV, III, II; Class Secretary, IV; Football, IV, III, II, I; Baseball, III, II, I; Captain, IV; Basketball, IV, III, II.

Here is our "personality kid." His reserved manner and quick wit make "Mose" a favorite with both students and teachers. An all around athlete, he was the powerhouse and All-State fullback on the football team With these fine qualities "Mosey" will surely succeed in the world.

RICHARD JOSEPH DOYLE, "Dick"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Commercial Club, IV; League of Sacred Heart, IV, III; President, I; Baseball, IV, III; Basketball, IV; CLARION, IV.

Genial and likeable, "Dicka" is another prominent scholar of this year's graduating class. Although inclined to be a little boisterous outside of class, he is a quiet fellow inside and eager to lend a helping hand in his friendly modest manner. Due to the constant effort expended in pursuit of his studies, "Dicka" merits all that his future may yield. Lots of luck, "Dick."

BARTLEY JAMES FOLEY, "Wee Wee"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Basketball, IV, III, II; Baseball, IV, III; Football, IV; Golf, II; Commercial Club, IV, III, II; CLARION Business Staff, IV.

"Big things come in small packages." That's our little blond Irishman all over. Active on the "champs" this year he proved himself to be a big help. This is not the only field in which "Bart" displays himself because "Whizzer" is also industrious in his studies, a man of good humor and has the persistence to succeed.

MICHAEL JOSEPH FOLEY, "Mike"

CLASSICAL COURSE

League of Sacred Heart, IV, III; CLARION, IV; Vox Discipulorum, IV, III; Class Essayist; Public Speaking, II, I; Debating, III.

"Mike" won the title of being the best-natured member of the outgoing class. Never in four years has he been heard to say anything, or act in any way so as to injure a single soul. "Mike's" goal may be far-fetched but with his never-say-die determination we are sure that "Mike" will attain it.

THOMAS FRANCIS FOLEY, "Tom"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Commercial Club, II; Basketball, II, I; Football, II, I; Debating, III, II.

"Tom" is one of our quiet but industrious chaps who is always ready to lend a helping hand to all who need it. We will miss his inexhaustible humor and witticisms and remember him always for them. Besides this, "Tom" is a diligent student and always ready with the correct answers. We wish you the best of luck, "Tom."

THOMAS PETER GORHAM, "Tommy"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Commercial Club, IV, III, II; League of the Sacred Herat, IV, III, II; Glee Club, III, II, I.

"Tom" is a mild-mannered lad. He is hard working in his studies and once he has started something, he never leaves it till it is finished. Popular with his fellow classmates, his efforts will certainly make him a success in life.

JOSEPH WILLIAM JOYCE, "Joe"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Golf, III, II, I; Debating, IV; Holy Name Society, III, II; League of Sacred Heart, IV, III, II; Business Manager of CLARION.

A winning personality; a mastery of expression; a deep knowledge of the courses of business;—all these are his and make of him the premier business man of the class. "Joe's" ability was fittingly recognized when he was chosen as Business Manager of the CLARION. This is the first outlet for his ability, and it is an intelligent wager that it is only a rung on the ladder to future success.

LADISLAUS MICHAEL KAZILIONIS, "Kazy"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Commercial Club, IV, III, II; Football, III; Banking, IV; Vox Discipulorum, IV; CLARION, IV; League of Sacred Heart, IV, III, II.

"Kazy" is one of the intellectual students of the commercial division. His cordial manner and winning smile have made him a great favorite among the students and faculty. A fine classmate and scholar, "Kazy" indeed deserves to go far in the business world.

JOSEPH EDWARD KELLEY, "Joey"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Commercial Club, IV, III, II; "C" Club, IV, III, II; Vox Discipulorum, IV; Holy Name Society, IV, III; Class President, IV; CLARION Staff, IV; Football, III; Basketball, III, II, I; Captain, IV; Baseball, IV, III, II, I.

Excellent of character, and excellent in athletics can be our only description of this young gentleman. Scholastically, he has compiled an enviable record during his four years at Cheverus. His popularity as a leader in basketball is voiced by all from the Freshman to the Senior classes. Our most sincere congratulations and hearty wishes for the same success in your ideals as that which you enjoyed in basketball engagements.

WILLIAM ARTHUR KELLEY, "Weary"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

League of Sacred Heart, IV, III, II, I; Commercial Club, IV, III, II; CLARION Staff, IV; Football, IV, III; Baseball, IV.

"Will's" nickname, "Weary," is in direct contrast to his personality. Unassuming in manner, his friendly and cheerful disposition has been in evidence. His good nature is to be envied. He is everything that a friend and classmate could be. May his future be as bright as his past.

RICHARD FRANCIS KILROY, "Dick"

CLASSICAL COURSE

Football, IV, III, II; Intra-mural Basketball, IV, III; Baseball, II; Debating, II, I; Public Speaking, IV, III; Vox Discipulorum Staff, IV; CLARION Staff, IV; League of the Sacred Heart, IV, III, II; Promotor, IV, III.

"Dick" is a patient, zealous chap who is always welcome anywhere. The classroom is never dull when he is around to delight us with his wit and contagious smile. However, when he is called upon to be serious, he is able to put aside fun and get down to serious work.

THOMAS JAMES LAPOINTE, "Rip"

CLASSICAL COURSE

Football, IV, III; Basketball, III, II, I; League of Sacred Heart, IV, III, II; Class Treasurer, IV; "C" Club, IV, III; Vox Discipulorum Staff, IV; CLARION Staff, IV; Golf Team, IV, III; Softball, III.

"Rip" is perhaps one of the most well-known and well-liked boys in school. Whenever he appears on the scene, whether in assembly or in classroom, a thunderous "Rip" greets his ears. By his flawless exhibitions of power, deftness, and spirit, he has done much to turn back the tide of enemy leather-toters.

GEORGE VEADLE LEE, "Red"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

"C" Club, IV, III, II; Baseball, IV, III, II; Football, IV, III; Commercial Club, IV, III, II; Holy Name Society, III, II.

"Red" in three short years has made himself a vital part of Cheverus. Prominent in athletics, he always portrays a tireless ability to succeed. This ability will not be found wanting, but rather shall be strained to heights beyond all present comprehension when George finds himself engulfed by the turbulent sea of worldly experience.

FRANCIS HILARY LORELLO, "Frank"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Class President, I; League of Sacred Heart, IV, III, II; Football, IV, II; Commercial, IV, III, II; CLARION Staff, IV; Golf, IV, III.

"Frank" is the wit of the class. His disposition is jovial and cheerful. He is energetic and industrious in any task which he undertakes whether it is large or small. Keep up the good work, "Frank," and the business world will hold no troubles for you.

THOMAS JOSEPH MARLEY, "Tom"

CLASSICAL COURSE

League of Sacred Heart, IV, III; Class President, III; Football, IV, III; Vox Discipulorum, IV; CLARION, IV; President of French Club, IV; Public Speaking, III; Dramatics, IV; "C" Club, IV, III.

For all-round dependability we choose "Tom" as number one man. On the gridiron "Tom's" competence was early evident, and he was, in his two years of varsity ball, an invaluable asset to the "Fighting Irish." With an ever ready smile and an ever ready answer, he was well liked by all.

JOHN COLEMAN McDONOUGH, "Mac"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Football, III, II, I; Captain, IV; Baseball, III, II, I; Basketball, III, II, I; CLARION Staff, IV; Commercial Club, IV, III, II, I; Holy Name Society, IV, III, II, I.

John is the last of the McDonough family that has dominated the school for so long. Like them, he is an outstanding football playing, being captain of this year's team. A diligent worker, and with the will to succeed, he is all ready to go out on his own.

NEIL FRANCIS McVICAR, "Mr. Chips"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

League of Sacred Heart, IV, III; Bank, IV; Glee Club, III; Dramatics, I; Vox Discipulorum, IV; Commercial Club, IV, III.

Neil has been one of our most industrious and energetic commercial students. As a member of the school bank and Vox staff, he has made many friends from Freshman to Senior. His ever-present smile which has carved a deep notch in the hearts of all true Cheverians, will be a welcome asset in future business transactions.

JOSEPH STEPHEN MURRAY, "Red"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

League of the Sacred Heart, IV, III; Baseball, IV, III; Debating, IV, III, I; Football, II, I; Golf, III, II; Commercial Club, IV, III, II; Public Speaking, III, II, I.

"Red" is the student with the flaming red hair. His great popularity is due chiefly to his humor and ever-ready smile. He is likewise an apt scholar in all his classes. With these characteristics, and a keen, lively interest for business, "Red" should go far in his chosen profession.

EDWARD JOSEPH O'DONNELL, "Ed"

CLASSICAL COURSE

Public Speaking, III, II, I; League of Sacred Heart, IV, III, II; Glee Club, II, I; French Club, IV.

"Ed" is quiet and studious. He is always ready to do a favor for anyone and, what is more, is always cheerful about it. His dignified manner will certainly be an asset in his chosen profession. We know that with a personality such as "Ed" possesses, he will find success in his life's work, and our best wishes go forth with him.

WILLIAM JOHN PERATES, "Dapper"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

League of Sacred Heart, IV, III, II; Holy Name Society, IV, III, II; Golf Team, IV, III; Commercial Club, IV, III, II.

When "Willy" entered Cheverus, his rare sense of humor was quickly appreciated. He made the going easy with his witty remarks. "Willy," however, can drop his humorous mood and become one of our most serious students when the time is right. His ranks prove this. In parting, "Will," we wish you the greatest of success in your future endeavors.

FRANCIS JOHN REGAN, "Frankie"

CLASSICAL COURSE

Glee Club, II, I; League of the Sacred Heart, IV, III, II; CLARION, IV; Public Speaking, II, I; Baseball, II, I.

"Frankie" is the silent type, but when he is called upon to recite, we realize that his silence is not a shallow one. May his quiet and composed attitude toward all things be as much an attribute to him in future life as it has been during these years at Cheverus.

JAMES JOHN RIDGE, "Rames"

CLASSICAL COURSE

CLARION Staff, IV; League of Sacred Heart, IV, III, II; Debating, IV, III; Glee Club, III, II, I; Dramatics, II, I; Public Speaking, II, I; Baseball, IV, III, II; Basketball, II, I.

"Jimmy" is an Irish tenor who can bring tears to your eyes with ballads of the Emerald Isle. This serious strain is retained as well in earnest class work, but in every leisure moment afforded him, that touch of the "olde sod" brings to light a personality sparkling with humor. "Jimmy" will be heard from in the future.

THOMAS EDWARD SCAHILL, "Ace"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

League of the Sacred Heart, IV, III, II; CLARION Staff, IV; Baseball, II; Commercial Club, IV, III, II; Glee Club, I; Golf, III, II; Captain, IV.

"Tom" is a modest lad. To him and his work during the Senior year, we owe much of the success of our school paper, the Vox. Although not a talkative fellow, "Tom" is one of the most liked students in both of the Senior classes. Our prophecy of "Tom" is that wherever he goes or whatever he does, he will always be on the top, and helping others to be there with him. "Tom" has a great possibility for a journalistic career.

JOHN EDWARD SHAW, "Johnnie"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Commercial Club, IV, III, II; League of Sacred Heart, IV, III, II; Glee Club, II, I; Riding Club, III; CLARION Staff, IV; Junior Holy Name Society, III.

Always quiet and retiring, John conceals an alert mind behind his ready smile. He has been prominent in all his classes. John has the best wishes of the whole class. May he succeed in all things, as he has at Cheverus.

WAYNE SUDBOROUGH, "Suddy"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Commercial Club, IV, III, II; League of Sacred Heart, IV, III, II; CLARION Staff, IV; Public Speaking, II, I; Baseball, III, II; Football, II.

Wayne is a happy-go-lucky sort of person. He is always ready to lend a helping hand to anyone he can assist. Prepared to join in the fun at all times, he has made numerous friends among his classmates. He is the latest dictionarian to leave Cheverus since Thomas Gillespie. Wayne is a competent typist, and should go far in the business world.

WALTER FRANCIS SWEENEY, "Buddy"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Class Secretary, I; CLARION, IV; Vox Discipulorum, IV; Football, IV, III, II; Commercial Club, IV, III, II; "C" Club, IV, III; Inter-mural Basketball, IV, III.

From the Commercial Course we have had innumerable athletes and scholars. Walter is an excellent characterization of each. Both on the gridiron and in the class his mastery of athletics and school work has been profoundly demonstrated. Our fondest wishes for passage to that realm which is aspired by all—Success.

ROBERT VINCENT THORNTON, "Abner"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Commercial Club, IV, III, II; Vox Discipulorum, IV; CLARION, IV; Vice-President, II; Baseball, III, II; Basketball, IV, III, II.

"Abner" is one boy who exemplifies the ideal commercial student. Despite his school work and interest and participation in sports, he is one of the leading students in the business side of the Senior class. "Bob" has given much of his time in order to make both the school paper and yearbook a success. If his school work is an example of his ability, he should be on the top of the business world of tomorrow.

THOMAS EDWARD WALSH, "Tucker"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Football, IV, III; Baseball, IV, III; Basketball, III; Golf, IV, III; Softball, III; CLARION, IV; Commercial Club, IV, III; "C" Club, IV, III; League of Sacred Heart, IV, III, II.

Coming to us in '38, "Tucker" has proven his worthiness in both the classroom and the field of athletics. Big and rugged, "Tucker" has played an important part on the gridiron, court and diamond. May his years in the business world be of such a success.

PATRICK HENRY WELCH, "Pat"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Promoter of League of Sacred Heart, IV; Vox Discipulorum, IV; Banking, IV; CLARION Staff, IV; Class Secretary, III, II; Commercial Club, IV, III, II.

"Pat" is that serious-faced lad whose presence is enjoyed by all of his classmates because of his pleasing personality and his willingness to lend a helping hand. No doubt, "Pat," as a successful business man, will be a credit to his community, just as a student, he was a credit to his school.

RICHARD DANA WENTWORTH, "Dick"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Football, IV; Baseball, IV, III; Commercial Club, IV, III, II; CLARION Business Staff, IV; Holy Name Society, III.

"Dick" is a good-natured, sympathetic and understanding lad. But, no, not a mere lad is Richard. A six-foot two hundred and ten pound fullback describes him better. "Dick" was the acme of consistent driving power on the football squad and the fire-ball artist of the diamond. We trust that his friendly sincerity and typical Irish temperament will suffice in cutting out for him an extremely successful career.

WILLIAM CHARLES WIEMERT, "Will"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Glee Club, I; Commercial Club, IV, III, II; League of Sacred Heart, IV, III, II; Intra-mural Basketball, IV, III.

Here is a lad who has played the part of a master funster excellently throughout his four years at Cheverus by his innumerable quips and frequent outbursts of humorous wit. His pleasing mien has won him numerous friends within and without the school. May your disposition be your key to success.

EDWARD WATSON YOUNG, "Eddie"

COMMERCIAL COURSE

League of the Sacred Heart, IV, III; CLARION Staff, IV; Commercial Club, IV, III; Football, IV; Vox Discipulorum, IV.

Three characteristics make him outstanding, namely, joyfulness, extrovert, socialite, and business man. "Ed's" general good humor and fine appreciation of good stories all add up towards making him well liked. His clever remarks often ease the tension created by a program of heavy studies. Good luck, and plenty of success, "Ed."

Senior Superlatives

BEST LOOKING

Presenting the Adonises of the Senior Class, all tried and found to be the most handsome among a class noted for its good looks. Polling the most votes was Joe Kelley, while close behind were Thomas Walsh and John Buckley, tied for second. Who's this coming up, close on the heels of the leaders? Why, none other than John Clancy, winning by a grin from the other forty students, who were all closely bunched.

BEST ORATOR

Outstripping all other competitors, John Clancy and Thomas Marley fought a furious battle for the honor of being named the Demosthenes of the Senior class. Their persuasive voices and flailing arms are something to behold. It is even rumored that they practice with pebbles in their mouths. It was a difficult job to select the premier elocutionist, but when the votes had been tabulated, John had won going away.

MOST POPULAR

This was a title for which everyone was a serious contender. However, someone had to win, and in this case, Joe Kelley walked off with the honors. John McDonough and Thomas Marley tied for second, while John Clancy placed third. There they are — Kelley, McDonough, Marley, and Clancy — the popularity Quads.

MOST COLLEGIATE

This was a contest strictly for the boys of the high water pants, bright-colored stockings, bow ties, gum-bottom shoes, and pork pie hats. The race soon narrowed down to John Clancy and Thomas Coyne. John had held the title "Joe College" all year, but Dodo finished strong and nosed out "Joe" himself by one vote. The king is dead — long live the king.

MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED

John Clowes of the Commercial class received the acclaim of his fellow students as the one who from their number is most likely to succeed. John's success most probably will come in the business world. From the Classical Division came John Clancy and Thomas Marley, finishing close to the top and with the best wishes of their classmates urging them on to success in whatever profession they choose. Richard Doyle completes the quartet — as fine a one as you could find anywhere.

MOST DIGNIFIED

Who is the most composed, self-assured, unruffled member of the Senior class? All these qualifications had to be taken into consideration in voting for the most dignified. The majority agreed heartily that John Clancy is "it." Such a title should stand John in good stead in years to come. Francis Crozier was chosen second, Edward O'Donnell third, and John Buckley fourth.

MOST BRILLIANT

Students seemed to be in perfect accord in awarding John Clancy, Valedictorian of 1940, the title of most brilliant, and in giving Thomas Coyne, Honor

Essayist, a second place. Michael Foley, Class Essayist, placed third, followed closely by John Clowes and Thomas Marley. Of course all seniors were in the race.

BEST ATHLETE

Triple threat man, Moe Denbow, garnered a plentitude of votes to win the title of Best Athlete of the Class of 1940. Basketball star Joe Kelley received the second-place position, and John McDonough, football captain, placed third.

MOST INDUSTRIOUS

Ever ready to aid others is Patrick Welch. His tireless work in school and extracurricular activities has been the reason for conferring on him the title of the most industrious. Almost up to him in this respect were Richard Doyle, Walter Sweeney and Thomas Coyne, who have given up much of their spare time to help in some school activity.

WITTIEST

Out of a class overflowing with wits comes the king and leader of them all, George E. Boyd. With ever a ready joke and humorous remark on his lips, he is without doubt the wittiest. Close in his tracks, however, is Hermene Cook, who, along with Boyd, gives the Senior class two of the wittiest fellows in the school.

NOISIEST AND CUT-UP

Always up to something is Hermene Cook and his partner in mischief, Neil McVicar. These two, without doubt, deserve the titles given to them. In an assembly, they are forever talking, laughing, and joking. During and outside classes, they are always causing commotions and playing tricks on themselves and others. Bart Foley and "Tucker" Walsh are another pair who shine in this respect.

TALLEST

In this year's senior class there were many tall students. Standing above them all, however, was the elongated "Rip" LaPointe. "Rip," since his entrance here as a freshman, seems to have grown inches at a time in attaining his now great height. Second only to him and but a couple of inches shorter was Thomas Gorham.

MOST VERSATILE

This was a walkaway for Joe Kelley, who seems to have a finger in everything as far as athletics go. Moe Denbow, who is Fordham-bound because of this versatility, pulled in second. All the others were too closely bunched to determine a third position.

BEST DANCER

Acclaimed by the majority as the foremost example of superlative ability in the mastery of the terpsichorean art, Lennie Ahern waltzed gracefully into top honors. Howling and doggedly racing behind was the very popular Johnnie (Gene Tunney) McDonough.

BEST DRESSED

Always splendidly and smartly attired, the impeccable John Clancy scored first place in a photo-finish race. Willie Perates, the envy of a great many of us, rolled up the votes for a close second, and Dodo Coyne, slow at the start, was sprinting vigorously in the last lap but did no better than show.

The Debating Club, under the direction of Father Peter J. Flanagan, a new addition to the faculty and an alumnus of Cheverus, began the year with a membership of twenty-five boys gleaned from the four classes.

The first debate was, appropriately enough, with the girls from Cathedral High School on what was a controversial subject at the time: Resolved, That the President is justified in changing the date of Thanksgiving Day. The girls, displaying more preparedness, garnered a 2-1 decision. Irked no end, Cheverus next journeyed to Portland High School to participate in a Round-Robin Debate, and incidentally to prove that they were a power to be considered. The negative team, composed of John Clancy and David Thornton, defeated Biddeford and South Portland High Schools, while losing a close decision to Lewiston. The affirmative team, composed of Thomas Marley and Thomas Coyne, defeated Lincoln High School, while losing to Deering.

Following this, Cheverus participated in two more debates with Cathedral High, splitting the decisions. In these debates, the Cheverus teams were composed of underclassmen, who did a most creditable job.

A most successful season will be brought to a fitting conclusion at a party which will be given jointly by the Cheverus and Cathedral Debating Clubs.

The French Club

Seated: Alfred Mulkern, Thomas Coyne, Thomas Marley, Rev. Armand Cyr, Edward McDonough, Richard Rowe, William McDonough.

Standing: Philip Ruminski, William Jennings, John Gorham, Philip McAvoy, John Clancy. Thomas Scahill, Thomas Earles.

Under the guidance of Father Armand Cyr, the French Club, Le Cercle du Bayard, was formed. In the space of a short period, this group was completely organized and functioned so well that it was possible to issue a French paper called, "Les Chevaliers."

The French Club met every two weeks and the officers who conducted the meetings were: President, Thomas Marley, '40; Vice-President, Edward McDonough, '41; Secretary, Thomas Coyne, '40; and Treasurer, William McDonough, '42. This circle had a membership of twenty who were comprised of French students from the three upper classes. During the year many meetings were held at which Father Cyr taught many uses of the French Language

The monthly paper was entirely the work of the underclassmen and it met with great success. The staff members were: Editor-in-Chief, Alfred Mulkern; Assistant Editors, Phil McAvoy, Richard Rowe, Edward McDonough, Thomas Earles, and David Thornton; Typist, Thomas Scahill, '40; Art Editors, William Jennings and Phil Rumanski.

These two organizations have been firmly established by the two upper classes and should make great progress in years to come.

Senior Class Play

Seated: Eunice Thorne, Mary Kane, Norberta O'Connell, Helen Davis.
Standing: Mary Noonan, Thomas Marley, John Clancy, Thomas Coyne, Agnes Chaisson.

With the passing of another graduating class from Cheverus, we write in its annals the success of the third annual Cheverus-Cathedral Senior Class Play.

"Keep on the Sunny Side," a comedy-drama in three acts was this year's production written by Nan H. Burns. It is the story of the Benson family, middle-class people who reside in a typical small town. The real life scenes and strange experiences which come to light, kept the enthusiastic audience entertained throughout.

The cast included John Buckley as Pa Benson; Naberto O'Connell as Ma Benson, his devoted wife; Agnes Chaisson as Amy, their oldest daughter; Mary Noonan as Bonnie, her younger sister; Helen Davis as Pearl McCune, the town gossip; John Clancy, as Dubbie, a young man afflicted with amnesia; James Farrell, as Sheriff Meeks; Thomas Marley, as Art Conners, a young man who keeps company with Amy; Mary Kane as Ruth Morgan; Eunice Thorne as Mrs. Gilchrist, Dubbie's sister-in-law.

Members of the cast feel that much of their success is due to the supervision of Father George W. Corcoran and the helpful direction of our coach, Miss Dorothy Beyer.

"Vox Discipulorum"

Continuing the same high standard of work set by its predecessors, the 1940 Vox kept the students well posted on all the school's activities. A highlight of the year was the fifteen-page Feb.-Mar. edition congratulating the basketball team.

A word of thanks is due the staff for the many hours of labor expended in making the Vox Discipulorum one of the finest school publications in Maine.

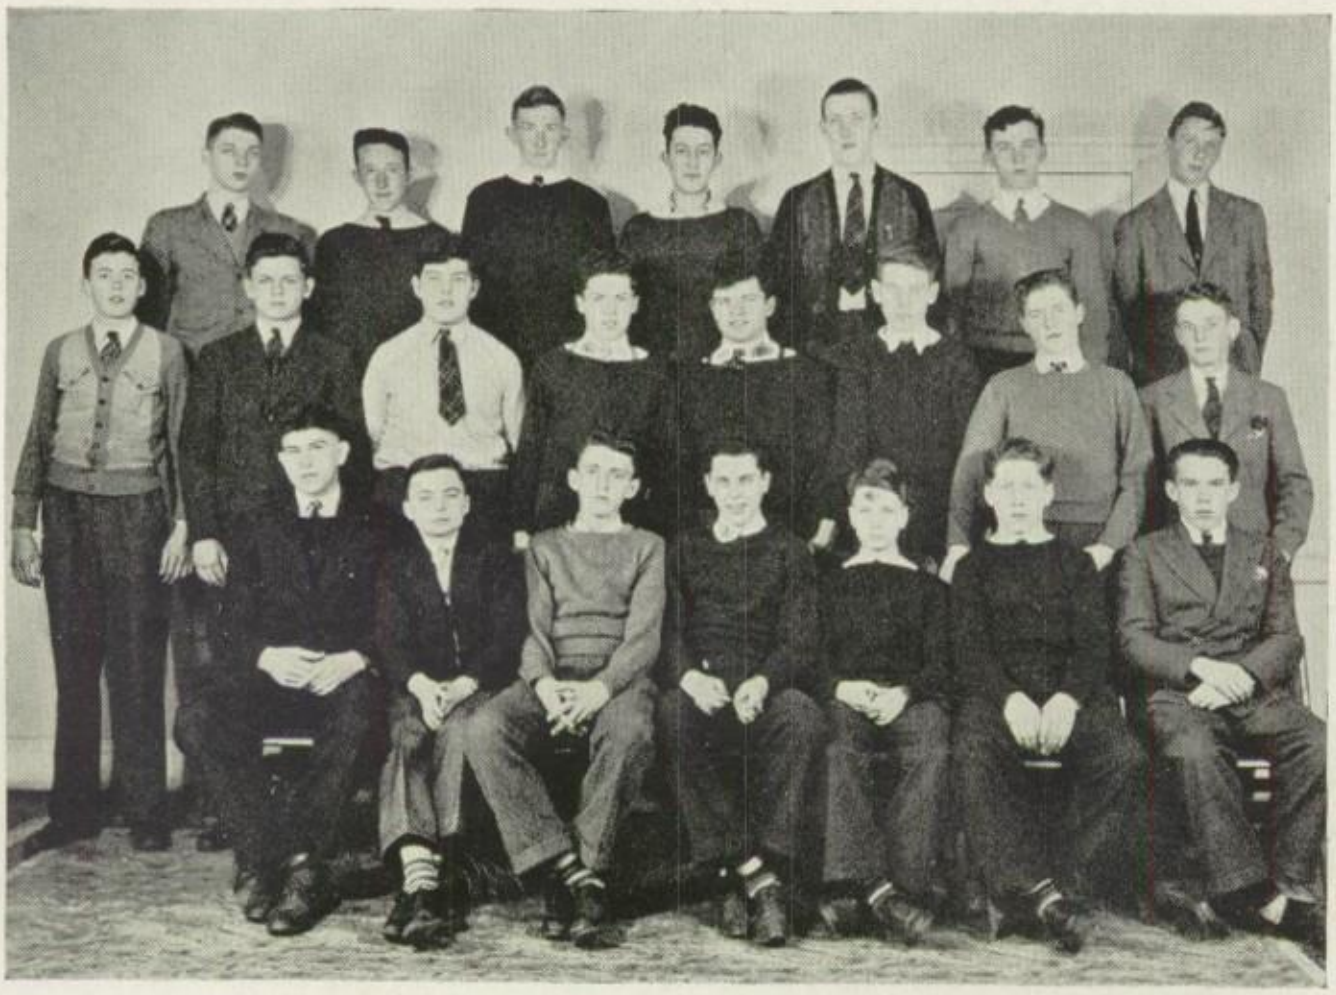
League of the Sacred Heart



The League of the Sacred Heart was introduced into Cheverus High in 1937. Immediately, Father Davis undertook the burdensome duty of appointing promoters and banding them together so that they might begin their work of enrolling the student body. Our principal at once notified each promoter of his respective obligations. These selected students wholeheartedly and diligently began their worthy aims.

The exercises of this league are widespread. Firstly, the promoters must endeavor to receive new members and have them pass their three degrees. After a student has fulfilled these requirements, he is a full pledged member of the League of the Sacred Heart. Secondly, each month the promoters must distribute to their members the league leaflets which contain a prayer for some special intention and the different feast throughout that month. Upon the completion of that month, the promoter then must make his report stating the new members he has enrolled and any special intentions members wish prayed for.

After much labor on the part of Father Davis in communion with the promoters, his fine desire has been finally realized; the complete student body is now enrolled.

Standing: Vincent Pelosi, John F. Logue, Philip Tierney.

The Riding Club commenced its third year with a full complement of members. Organized by Father Corcoran in 1937 this club has been one of the more popular extra-curricular activities in the school. Using the Tomlinson Riding Club as a base for its activities, the club affords much enjoyment to all who participate.

The officers this year include:

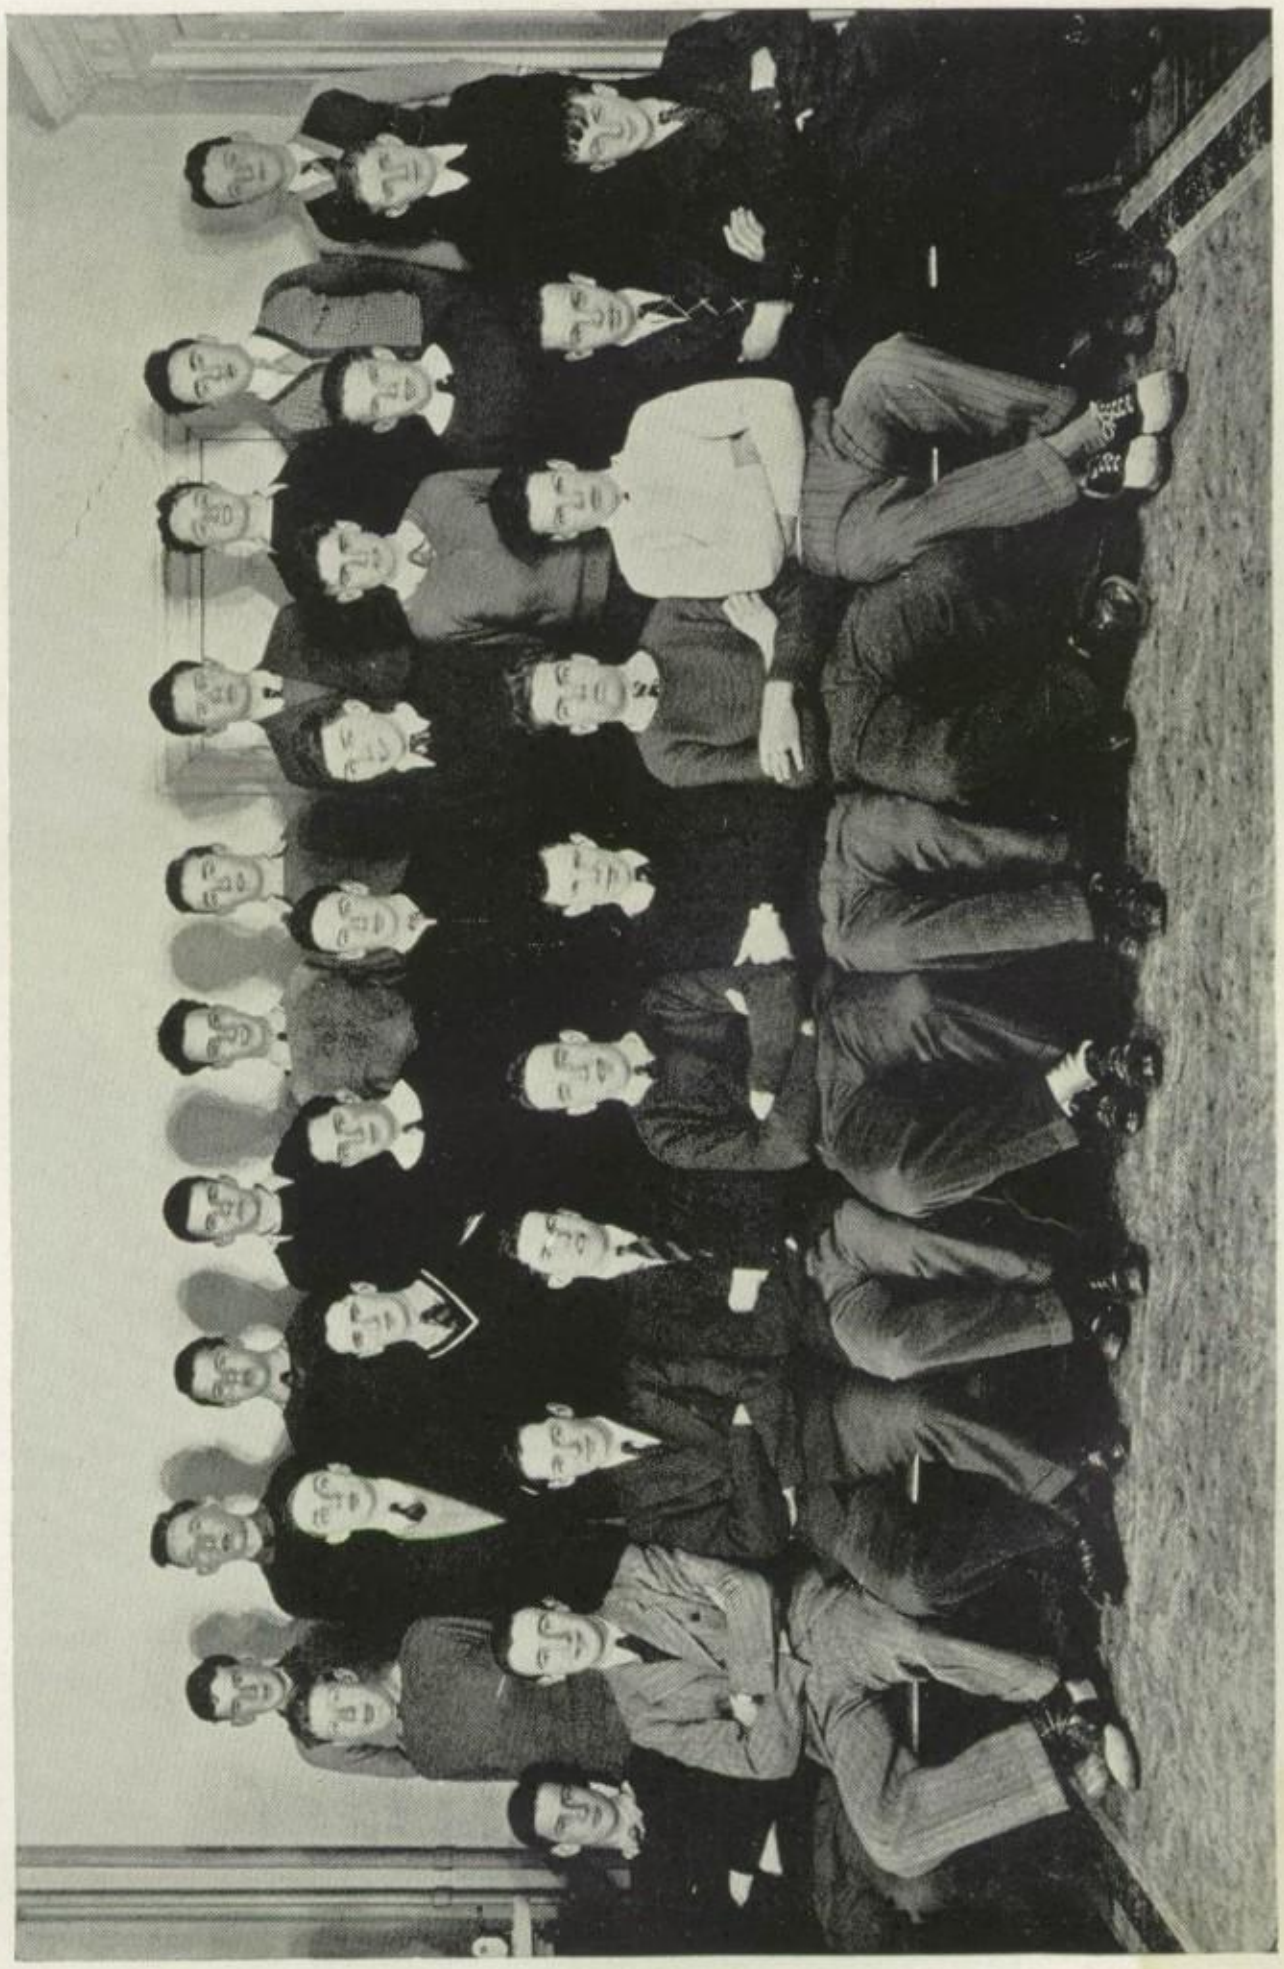
The "C" Club is the most silent organization in the school, yet it exists as a reality.

The club is composed of members who have achieved that much desired distinction of "letter man," in other words, those who have participated on varsity teams in all sports and have by such participation earned the coveted "C."

Whenever the school has been in need of assistance, the "C" Club has always generously and graciously given of its time and effort to help Cheverus out of its difficulty. This aid was exemplified last year in the purchase of an adding machine due to the sole efforts of this quiet but active club.



Junior Class

Junior Class Chronicles

Vacation over, seventy-five ardent Juniors entered through the portals of Cheverus Classical High School, determined to make the year at school a fruitful one. For the most part, the class returned intact.

First on the list of Junior class duties was the election of officers. With the last ballot collected and counted, the result proclaimed an overwhelming landslide-victory for the Commercial division. The positions distributed were as follows: James Carroll, President; John Foley, Vice-President; Patrick Duffy, Secretary; and James Farrell, Treasurer.

Eight gridiron juggernauts from the Junior class received the "nod" from Coach Whitmore when the football season heralded the frantic rush of hopeful aspirants in their mad dash to the practice field. The Juniors most deserving of praise on the 1940 football team were: John Foley, Phil McAvoy, Pat Duffy, and E. L. Manning. Soon the air was ringing with Dick's earnest pleadings for eagle-eyed hoopsters, so the Juniors satisfied his needs by placing at his disposal fifteen brilliant gems which would warm the depths of any basketball coach's heart. The most distinguished Juniors in this type of sporting fracas were: Ed Manning, Phil McAvoy, "Bullet" Foley, and Dave Thornton. Also deserving of mention are Ed Ridge and "Archie" Mullin, whose stellar and flawless relief play made them needed assets on Cheverus High's highly successful hoop team. During the basketball season, intra-mural games were held between the two upper and the two lower divisions. Sophomore B won handily the championship of the Junior division, while Senior B and Junior A tied for the title of the upper divisions. With Spring comes baseball, and with baseball, so come the Juniors. They strutted and pranced before the coach's appraising eye, and when cutting was no more, the shining lights were "Archie" Mullin, Phil McAvoy, Dave Thornton, and "Pat" Duffy.

Side by side with sports, Cheverus has and will continue to take great pride in her scholastic prowess and achievement, and this year the class of 1941 did much in furthering this justifiable pride. Those appearing consistently on the Honor Roll were: John Gorham, David Thornton, Alfred Mulkern, Edward Ridge, Amos Cayia, Richard Mullin, Thomas Murphy, and William Maher.

During the year, the Junior class was well represented in the Public Speaking Class, the Music, Dramatic, Riding, and Commercial clubs.

Now, as the term draws to a close, we are a little anxious in the joyful anticipation of the day when we walk out of school the Juniors of 1940, to return shortly, the exalted Seniors of 1941.

Sophomore Class

Early in September, sixty-nine young men, beaming with pride, happy with the realization that they were Freshmen no longer, marched into Cheverus High School to begin their Sophomore year.

After a short time, an assembly was held under the direction of Father Flanagan, for the purpose of electing class officers, and, as usual, it was a bitter struggle. When all the ballots were counted, the following boys had been elected: President, Stephen Mulkern; Vice-President, John Butkis; Secretary, James Busby; and Treasurer, William McDonough.

Many Sophomores responded to the call for membership in the French Club, organized this year by Father Cyr. Thomas Earles was made an assistant editor of the Club paper, and William McDonough was elected to serve as Treasurer.

In Debating, also, the Sophomores were fairly well represented. Among the members of this Club were: Roland Levesque, William Foley, and William McDonough.

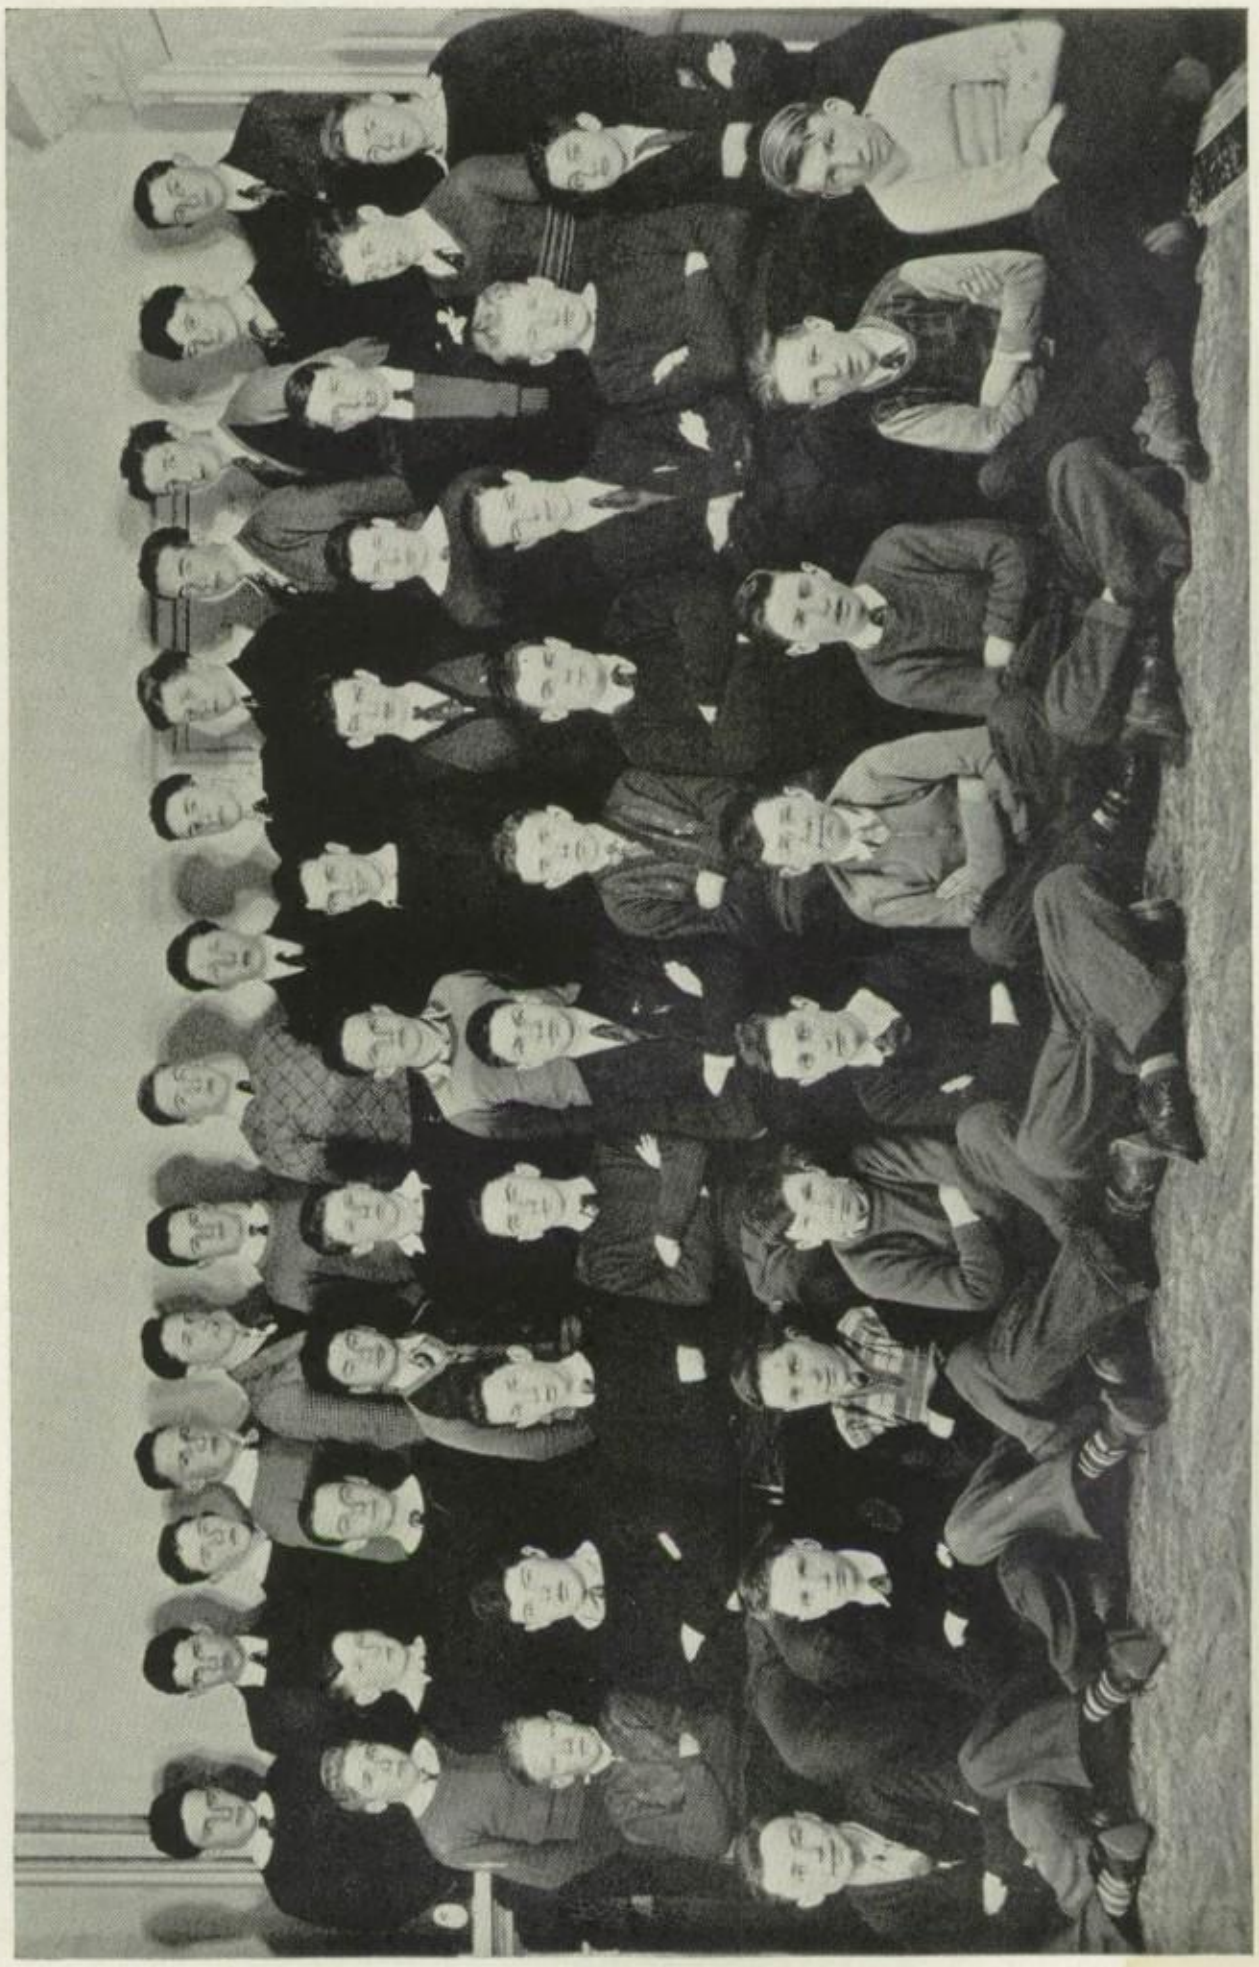
Active in the Riding Club this year were William Foley, Vincent Pelosi, and Philip Tierney. William Foley was honored with the Secretariate of this Club for the second successive year.

In athletics, the Sophomores were very prominent. In football, Edward Dufour, William Berry, and Everett O'Brion showed promise of becoming great ball-carriers, while John Butkis and John Hayden served notice that they will be noteworthy linemen in years to come. In basketball, William Berry was the only Sophomore of the State Championship basketball team. Many others were on the Jayvee Team, however, and will, in all probability, be future Varsity men. They were: John Butkis, Francis McFarland, "Chucky" Luttrell, and Everett O'Brion. In baseball, among Coach Whitmore's apple-chasers were John Kane, "Chucky" Luttrell, and "Pete" McDonald.

Although the number has decreased, there was still a fine representation of Sophomores on the Honor Roll this year. Among them were: Stephen Mulkern, James Busby, William McDonough, Bartley Conley, Vincent Tatarczuk, and Roland Levesque.

Thus the story ends, and the Class of "42" has completed another year of high school. The Sophomores wish to say, no matter what their showings may have been, that all the services rendered to them by their teachers have been sincerely appreciated.

William McDonough.



Freshman Class

Freshman Class

Freshman Class Chronicles

"Today, I am a man." This was, for the first few days of school, one of the typical thoughts of Freshmen attending Cheverus High School during the year 1939-1940. Why? Because on the first day of school we were told that "no one in high school is considered a child." But after our studies had begun in earnest, we found that, to keep our marks reasonably high, we must retain more useful thoughts in our minds than "Today I am a man" and the like. We did this. Soon our thoughts turned to history, Latin, English, etc.

Proof of the past statement is found in the fact that a great many of the students graced the first Honor Roll during the year. Among these were: James Ham, James Hannigan, Robert Tyde, Edward Jordan, Joseph Joyce, Martin McDonough, John Monnihan, and Richard Tetreau.

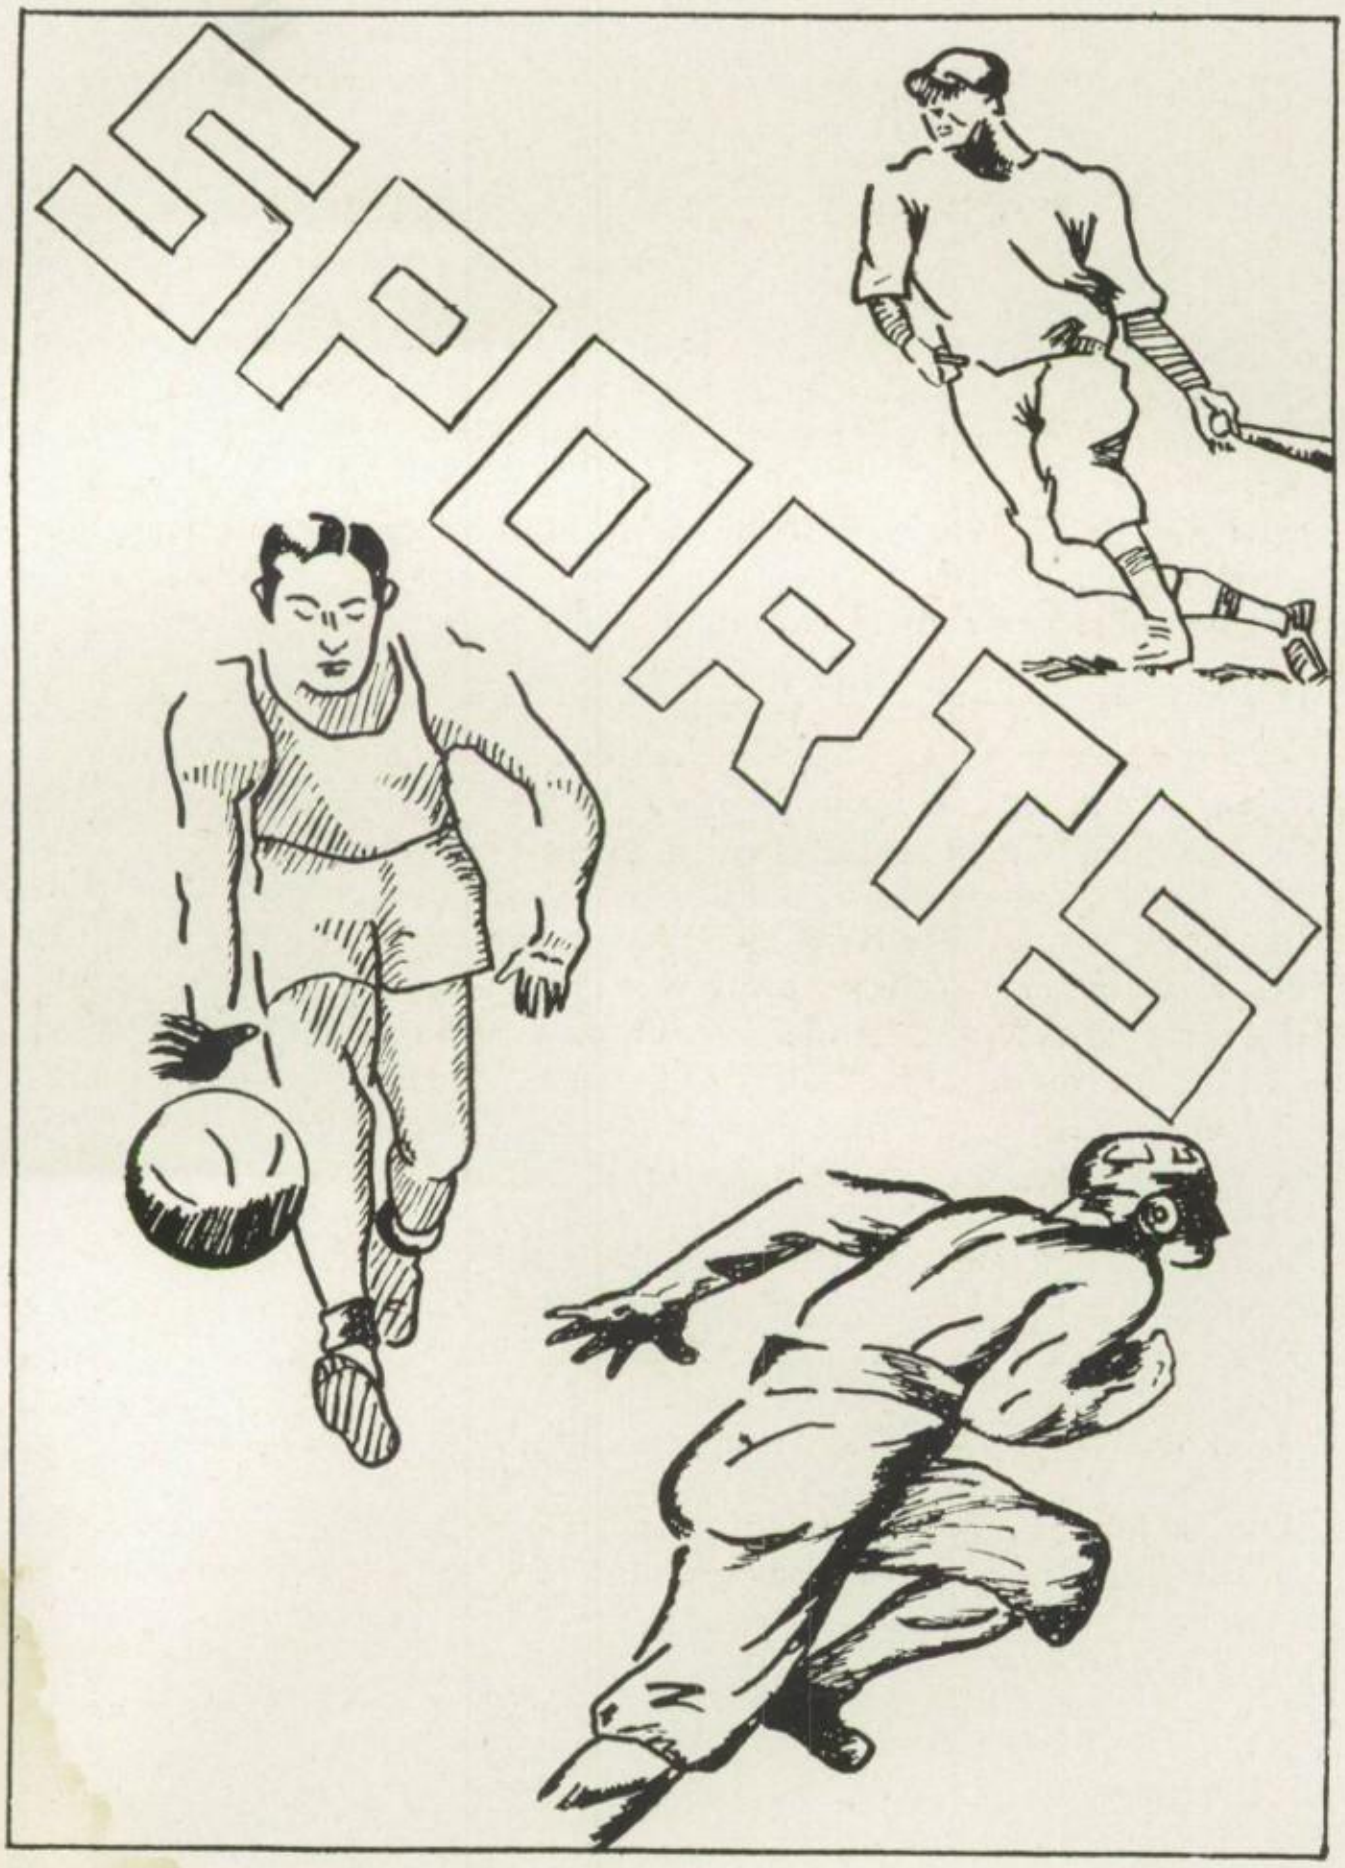
In a newly organized debating club which is under the supervision of Father Flannagan, the Freshmen took an active part. In a debate between the Freshmen on the question Resolved, That the government should own and operate the railroads, the negative side of William O'Donnell, Richard Barney, and Robert Handley proved too strong for Edward Jordan, Richard Foley, and Richard Tetreau, representing the affirmative.

Shortly after the opening of school, the Freshman class election was held. Those elected were: William Marley, President; James McBrady, Secretary; Martin Berry, Treasurer; and Richard Tetreau, Vice-President.

Freshman "C" was the class champion in the Intra-Mural Basketball League.

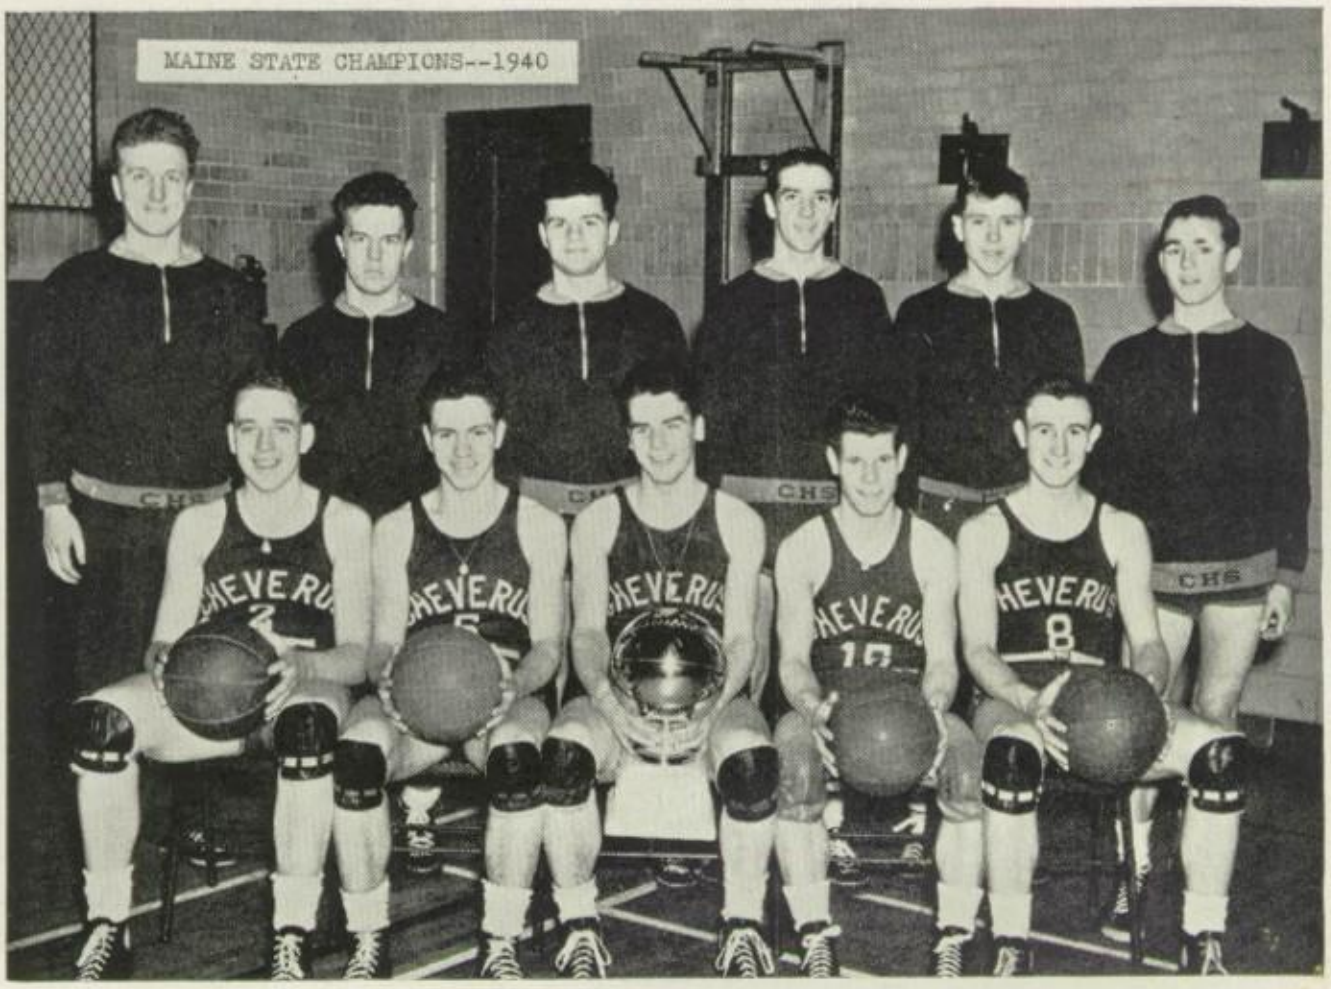
Now, in June, on the final day of school, we will leave the Freshman Class; but we will return again, as Sophomores, in September, one step nearer our goal —graduation.

Richard Tetreau.



SPORTS

Basketball



Seated: David Thornton, John Foley, Joseph Kelley, Edward Manning, Philip McAvoy.

This past year's brilliant and amazing record registered by our small but fighting group of hoopsters was, without a doubt, the greatest achievement ever attained by any Irish court team. Not only did they retain their supremacy in the Southwestern Maine Tourney, but also captured the State of Maine Hoop Diadem. This, however, was not the final step of the Cheverians in their quest of more and greater basketball honors. Entering the New England Extravaganza, they worked their way into the semi-final round only to lose to the eventual runner-up by the meager margin of two points in an overtime stanza. This, also, was not the only honor gained by the Purple school. After checking the past records it was revealed that for the past decade, the teams of Cheverus High have won more victories than any other combine in Southwestern Maine.

During the regular season this Cheverian cluster gave ample notice that they were not going to live on the laurels of their predecessors. They opened the season in a rather auspicious fashion by just nosing out their opponents in the first three games. Gaining confidence and ability as the season progressed, the Fighting Irish were soon leading the parade in Southern Maine, a hold that they relinquished for only one week. After the regular season was over and stock taken the Purple and Gold hoopsters had an enviable record of 14 wins as compared to three losses. The three losses suffered by the Chevvies were administered by Morse, Lewiston, and Bowdoin Frosh. Although the first two games were the only losses inflicted by high school teams, some solace was gained from the fact that these two schools had both been beaten previously by the Whitmore Charges. Giving his substitutes a chance to show their ability, Coach Whitmore allowed them to close the season against a strong Bowdoin Freshman combine. A few of the outstanding performances turned in by the Chevvies were victories over Portland, Morse, Lewiston, Waterville, and Rumford.

Opening the festivities of the Southwestern Maine Tournament, a small but determined Irish combine eliminated a potent Edward Little High team in a rousing finish by a score of 24 to 18. Completely shuttling the elongated Francis Parker, who led the scorers of Western Maine,, and diminutive Earl Huse, who followed close on his heels, with the "T" defense which was the main cause for this welcome victory, the Irish gained their semi-final berth. The Fighting Irish gathered in their second triumph of the tourney at the expense of the Shipbuilders of Morse. Playing a basket crazy game, the lanky Bath quintet gave Cheverus its biggest scare of the tournament by taking a short-lived lead of 15 to 11 at intermission. This, however, was not enough to oust the scrappy Purple team, as they make a determined comeback, led by "Bullet" Foley and Captain Joe Kelley, to capture the right to enter the final round. The Cheverians scored 27 points as to 25 for Morse through the efforts of a slow deliberate offense and the nearly impregnable "T" defense. For the second successive year the Irish found themselves in the finals of this sectional tournament and again carried their banner with flying colors by romping away with a 26 to 24 victory. Facing one of the fastest teams in the State, the Purple and Gold quintet again put forth a last period spurt to down the Red Riots of South Portland, and retained the crown which they won the previous year.

The following week the gallant Cheverus five made a successful final step in their quest for a first undisputed State Championship by whipping the Bangor Rams by a score of 24 to 17. The Cheverians displaying a masterful defensive game and a slow shrewd offense, became the 1940 representatives of Maine in the New England Interscholastic Tournament, in a tilt that was marked by brilliant play on both sides. The Southwestern Maine Champs, led by Captain Joe Kelley and Dave Thornton, took an early lead which they never relinquished throughout the entire contest, although the Queen City team always kept within striking distance.

In the New England Basketball Tourney held in Portland, the Fighting Irish reaped a rich harvest, although they lost to a great Pawtucket team in the semi-final round. Playing before one of the largest crowds ever to witness a basketball game in the State, Cheverus defeated a much taller West Springfield combine in the opening round. The enormous crowd roared in excitement and suspense as the small Cheverus team, by a score of 24 to 15, won their first New England Tourney game. Playing before a sell-out crowd for the second successive night, the Chevvies succumbed to the brilliant representatives of Little Rhody, by a score of 27 to 25 in a thrilling overtime duel. Making one of the greatest comebacks seen in the history of Maine basketball, the Fighting Cheverus team lost their first tournament game to a really great team. Although the Free Streeters lost, they also gained much praise for the manner in which they went down to defeat.

Still more honors came to the Cheverus players when three of them were chosen on the New England All-Tournament second team. These players were Ed Manning, John Foley, and Dave Thornton, who missed the first team by the narrowest of margins. Two of the Cheverus players, Ed Manning and Joe Kelley, were chosen on the Western Maine Tournament All-team. Although he was given no all-team rating, Phil McAvoy turned in numerous brilliant performances. Many observers failed to understand why he was given so little consideration, as he did the bulk of the scoring in nearly all the tourney games, and much of it during the season. The other five subs who were placed in the background by the superb play of their teammates were: Bill Berry, Bart Foley, Ed Ridge, Archie Mullins,, and Moe Denbow, the latter two seeing almost as much action as the first stringers.

It is only fitting that we say a few words about our now famous mentor, Dicka Whitmore. Starting his second year as coach at Cheverus, he turned in another brilliant record. After losing his two most versatile players, he molded together a team that exceeded the one of the year previous. We extend our heartiest congratulations to him for developing a team second to none in the entire State.

Robert Thornton, '40.

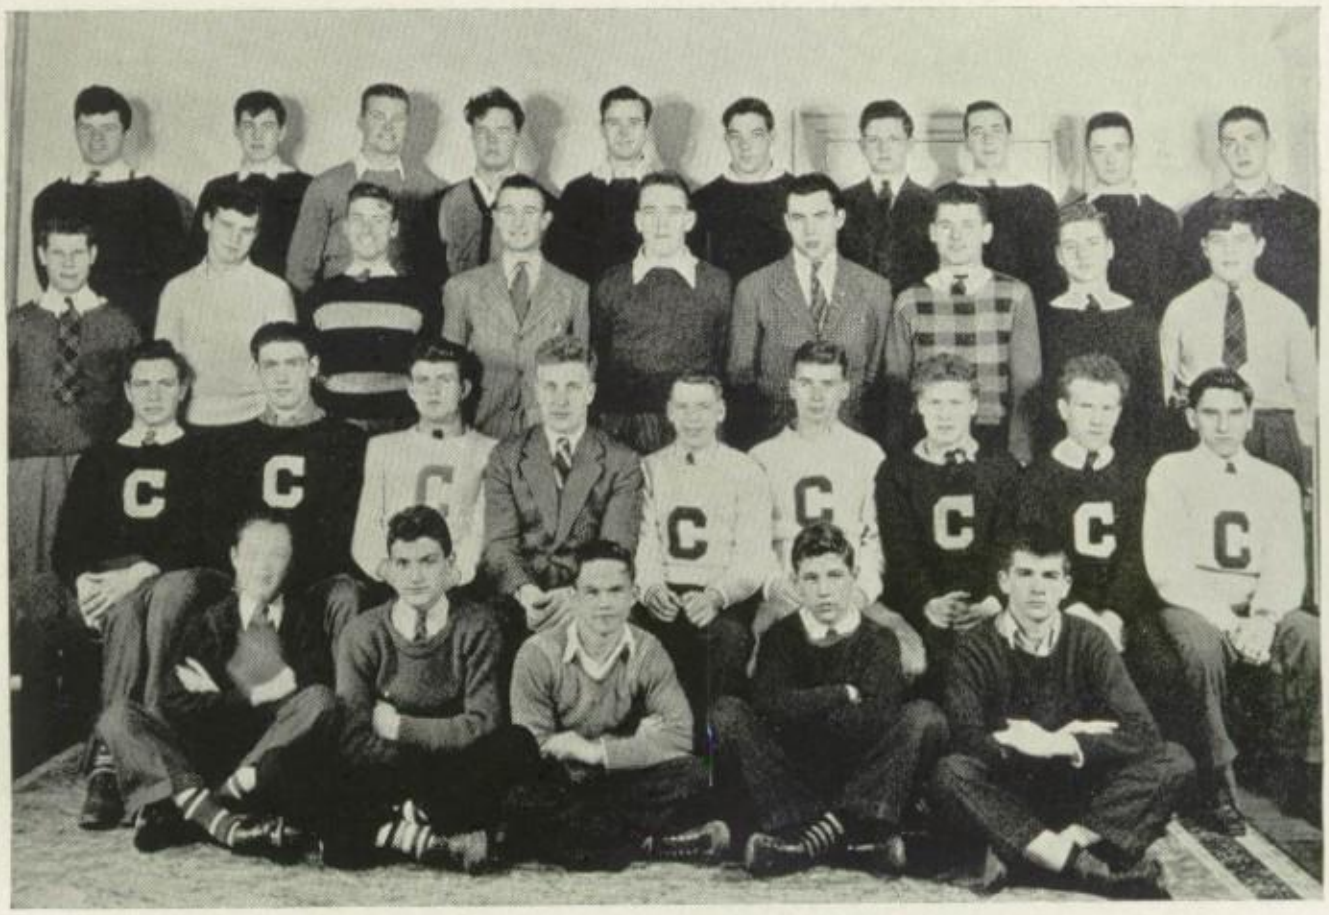
Football



With a bright outlook the Cheverus pigskin toters commenced another rigorous football season; a season that was to be even harder than those of previous years. That outlook was smashed to bits by the ever-persistent injury jinx which has become a yearly hurdle of all Cheverus teams. Although the injury ridden Purple failed to enter many performances on the win side of the ledger, nevertheless,, the small fighting Purple squad proved that it was one to be feared and with a few more capable replacements they might have gained a much more impressive record.

Opening the season by participating in the newly originated Round-robin game, the Irish eleven look very impressive and were favored to have one of the best seasons in a good many years. With a team of veterans consisting of Captain John McDonough, Moe Denbow, Bud Sweeney, Phil McAvoy, Red Lee, Dave Thornton, Rip LaPointe, Tom Marley, and a few other bright prospects, the outlook seemed bright. However, when the injury list was counted and the season was over the Cheverus aggregation had only won two games while losing six. Among the disappointing reversals suffered by the Free Streeters were one touchdown setbacks by Thornton, Waterville, and Sanford plus a one point margin by Deering. They lost to Portland and Rumford by two touchdown margins while winning from John Bapst and Biddeford which fielded one of the strongest elevens in years. Despite the fact that they were continually hampered by injuries to key players, they upheld their reputation in all of these skirmishes.

The carriers of the purple and gold pried open the regular season by losing to a potent Thornton Academy team by a 7 to 0 score. The game was just as interesting as the score indicated, as the Cheverus eleven threatened the Maroon and Gold line numerous times. However, with a few breaks and the game played later in the season, the Irish might well have changed the complexion of the game completely.

This melee was not the only one that the Fighting Irish lost by a close score. The next Saturday a strong Deering team upset them by a one point margin, the score of the tussle turning out to be 7 to 6 in favor of Deering. Far from being outplayed, the Cheverians exhibited a strong defensive game although their attack failed constantly due to a lack of fresh reserves. A few weeks later a mediocre Sanford combine defeated them by a 7 to 2 count. Although they were on the short end of the score, the Chevvies might well have won from the Cohorts of "Flash" Fallon with a little aid from Lady Luck.

The only two triumphs gained by the Purple were over a fighting Biddeford team and the somewhat weak representatives of John Bapst High. Playing one of the strongest Biddeford teams in years, Cheverus High came out on top by the score of 13 to 7, only after a long hard struggle. Being the first win of the year for the Chevvies it was a very much welcomed one. By winning from John Bapst Cheverus not only won their second game of the year but also annexed the State Catholic Championship. Led by Moe Denbow the Irish won by a score of 28 to 6, the highest total made by any Cheverus team in the past four years.

The only games that were lost by more or less one-sided margins were to Rumford and Portland. At Rumford, the purple clad warriors went down to defeat by a 12 to 0 margin after a gruelling struggle with the small, fast, Panther outfit. Although they led at halftime, the Whitmorites suffered their worst licking of the season at the hands of their arch-rivals, Portland High. The Bulldogs garnered their 19 to 6 win in the last half by outlasting the small purple cluster.

Coach Whitmore's charges closed the season by losing to a powerful Waterville High team by one touchdown. Playing with only a scattering of veterans, Cheverus deserved a better fate than they received in the down state tussle. After outplaying their Eastern rivals for the full 60 minutes, our boys had to be satisfied with a 7 to 0 reversal.

Those who contributed outstanding performances during the entire campaign were: Captain John McDonough, Moe Denbow, who was later chosen on many All-State teams, Phil McAvoy, Bullet Foley, Rip LaPointe, Bud Sweeney, Pat Duffey, Ed Manning, Dave Thornton, and John Connolly.

Baseball

With two experienced twirlers and a few timely hitters, Cheverus High's baseball aspirants began another rigorous three game week schedule. Inclement weather soon put a stop to the Cheverus practice sessions and as a result the Purple diamonders were forced to open the season with only a few days practice.

This, however, did not interfere with the Irish hopes of opening the season with a win. Led by the extra base hitting of Joe Kelley and the timely hitting and brilliant pitching of Phil McAvoy, the Cheverus swatsmen garnered their first win by a score of 13 to 4 at the expense of a weak Thornton Academy team. The following day the rains came again and the Whitmorites were forced to postpone their next two encounters, thus being forced to play five games the following week. Cheverus lost their first game of the season to Westbrook by the score of 8 to 7.

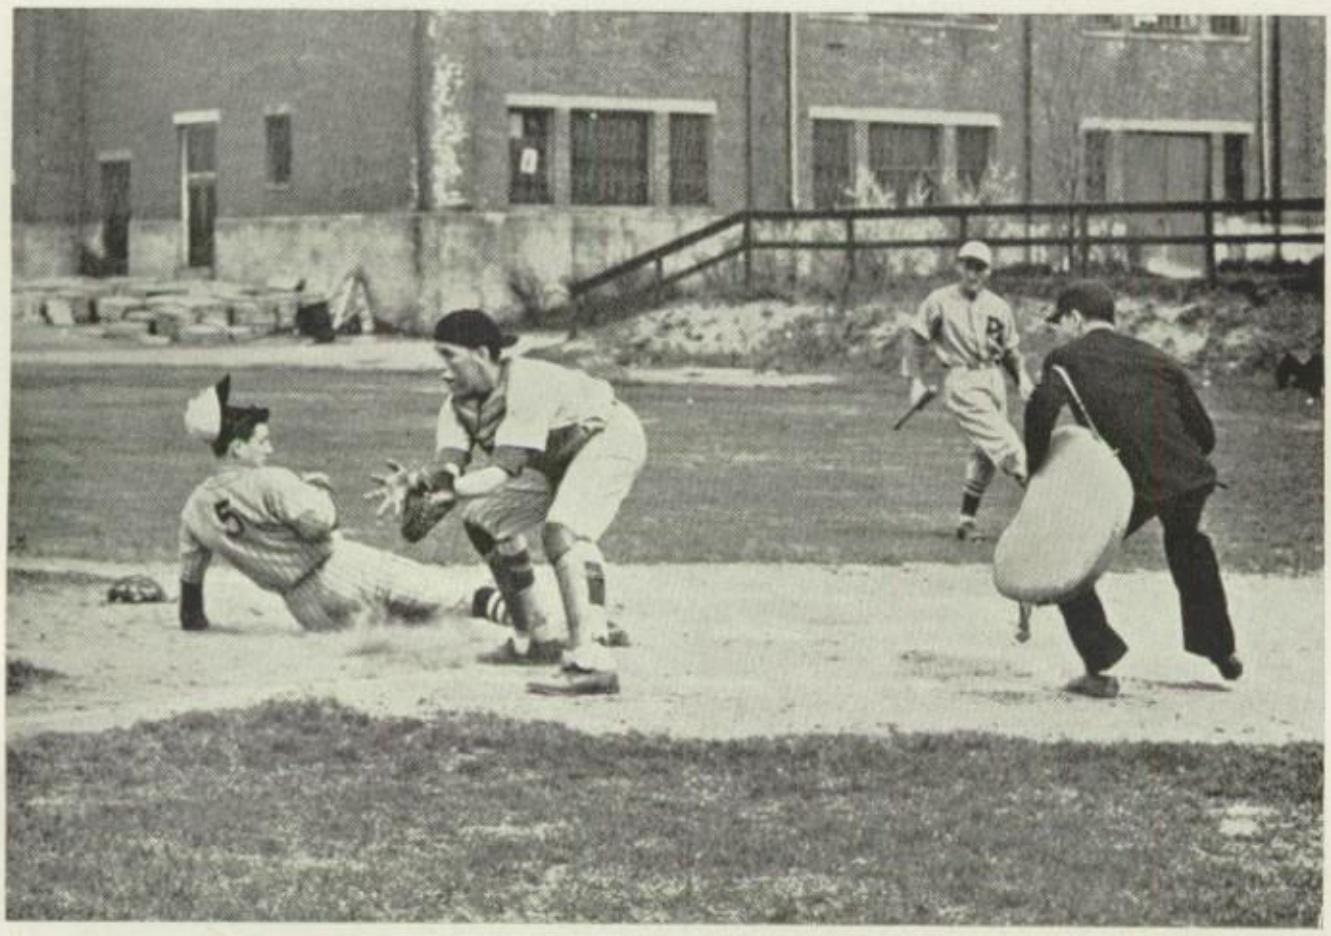
Not only did the weather interfere with the Cheverus plans, but Lady Luck turned against them when Archie Mullins was injured sliding into home plate in the Thornton skirmish. This stellar fly-chaser will be forced to sit on the sidelines for the remainder of the season.

Against Thornton, the Cheverus ball chasers paced by the stingy pitching of Phil McAvoy, ran away to an easy victory by the score of 13 to 4. Phil turned in a brilliant performance allowing the Saco team only two hits and disposing of 19 via the strike-out route. All nine of the Cheverians, despite the early season played good ball.

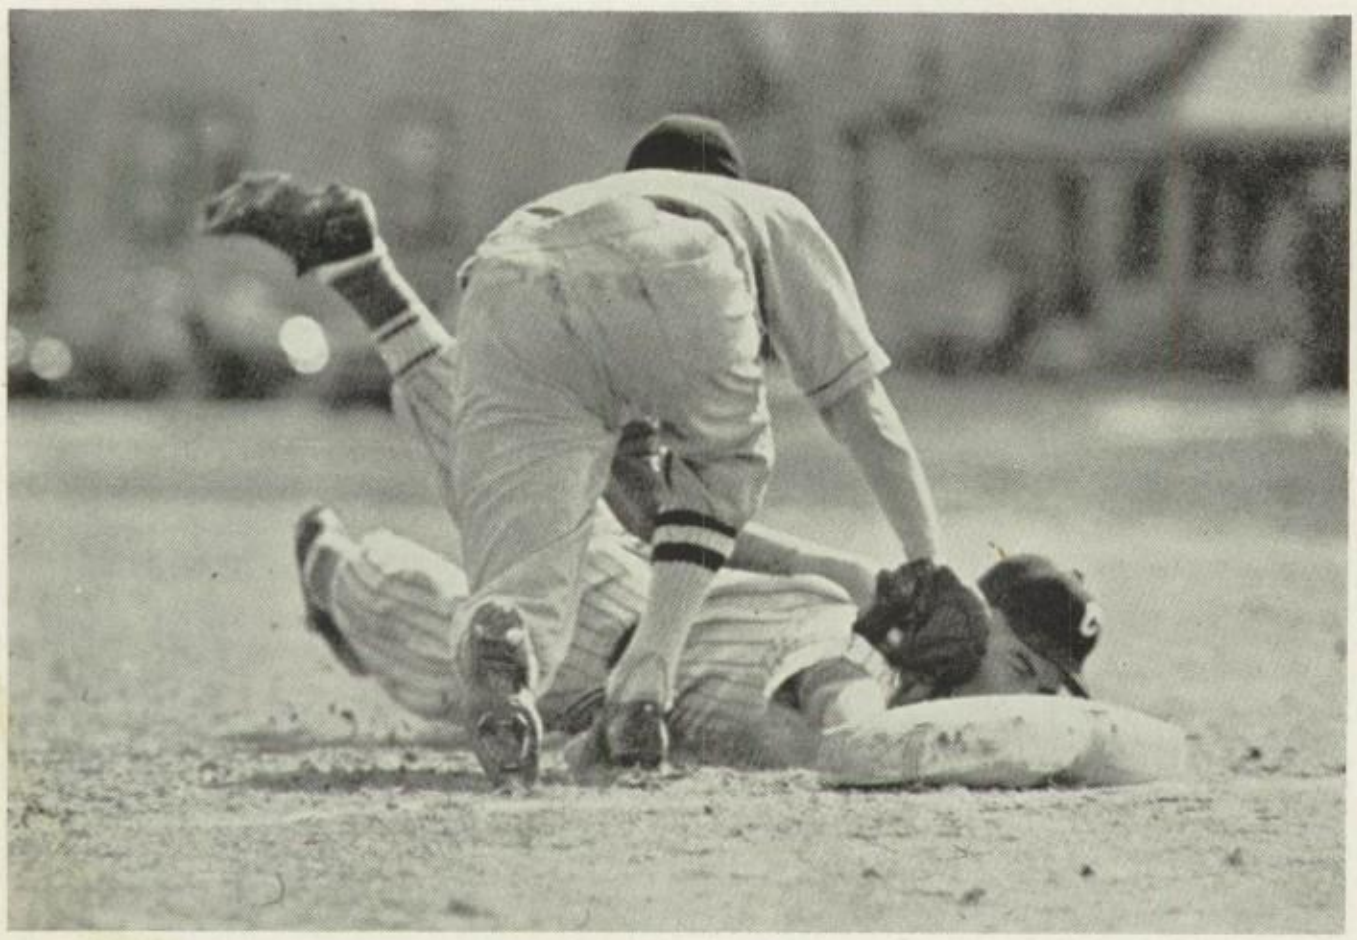
Against a strong Westbrook High team, the Cheverus pastimers were defeated for the first time. Leading throughout the entire game, the Cheverians were finally caught and beaten in the final stanza as a result of unnecessary misplays. Joe Kelley turned in a well-pitched game, but had to be the victim of loose support in the crucial moments.

THE SCHEDULE

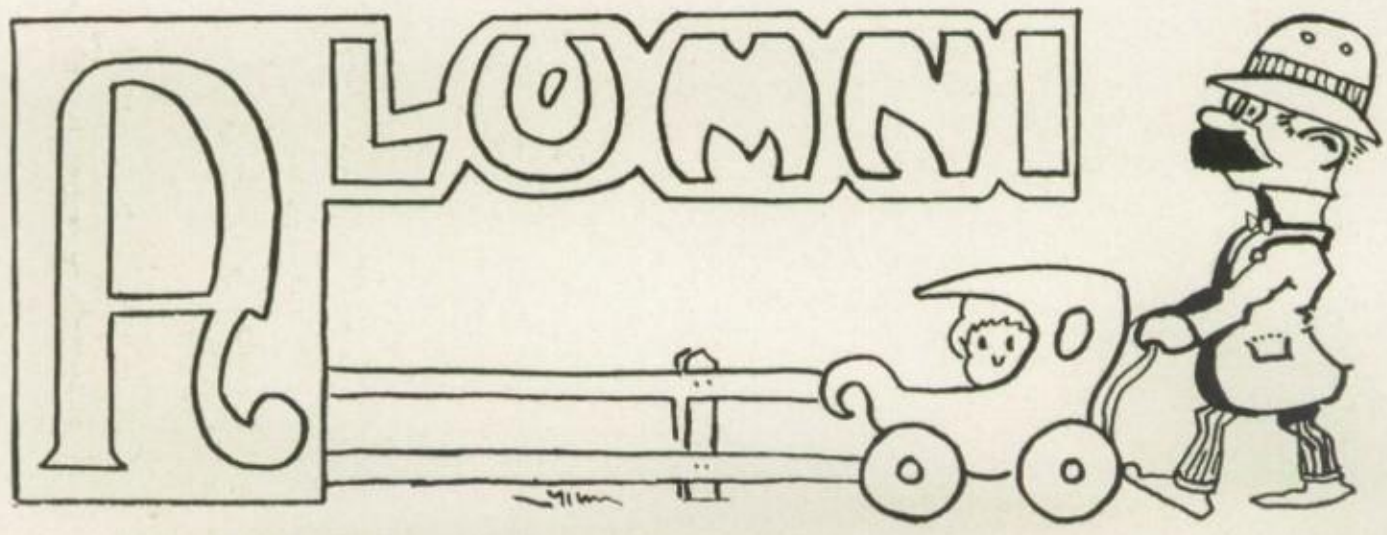
Cheverus	13	Thornton	4
Cheverus	7	Westbrook	8
Cheverus	10	Biddeford	11
Cheverus	6	Deering	5
Cheverus	5	South Portland	11
Cheverus	5	Portland	3



Moffett is safe at plate in third inning of Cheverus-Portland game. Cheverus won 5-3.



Kelley caught off first in fourth inning of Cheverus-Deering game. Cheverus won 6-5.



Yearly, Cheverus High sends out into this swiftly gliding world a new group of young graduates, sends them from their carefully directed classrooms into a current in which they must be their own directors. Some are fortunate enough to be able to continue their education. But the majority immediately take up positions in various working fields.

Now, whether it is a realized fact or not, when Cheverus High School Graduates are admitted into higher institutions of learning, when employers grant Cheverus graduates positions, both are receiving young men who have been taught not only the standard high school courses, but who also have blessedly been given that finish to their education so blindly omitted in most schools today, that inevitable requisite, spiritual training.

It is pleasing to note that with each new year the number of those who are able to continue their education increases in number. For instance, from the class of 1939, the scholarship student, Leonard McDowell, is attending Holy Cross College. Michael Conley chose New York University, while "Lockley" Jennings and John McCallum are at Coburn Classical. Harold Wade is at the Emerson School of Diction, Cambridge, Mass.; Roger Rague, Northeastern Business College; Robert Honan, Maine School of Commerce; John McDonough and William Gill, Gray's Business College.

Many 1939 graduates found suitable and satisfactory openings with local firms due to their high school training. Two students, Wendell McDowell and Patrick Slattery, are working in the Maine Central Railroad Office, while Leo Albert is employed by George C. Shaw Company; Thomas Gillespie, the Gannett Publishing Company; and Patrick Feeney, at the Graymore Hotel. James Niles is employed at the Lafayette Print Shop.

The class of 1938 presents a favorable report. Edward Walsh continues at Holy Cross; Hugh McDonough, Maine School of Commerce; Joseph McNeil, St. Michael's College, Vt.; Edward Newman and James Honan, Portland Junior College.

Those from this class who are now members of the working world are: Edward Robinson, Alexander's Studio; Edward O'Leary, stenographer at Hub Cycle Company; Russell Perrault, x-ray technician, New Hampshire Naval Hospital; Francis Ridge, M. L. Curran Meat Company; Ernest Brien, Crane Company, Portland; Thomas McDonough, chauffeur; John Flaherty, Oakhurst Dairy; Joseph Nasitowicz, Lafayette Hotel; Philip Fox, Gannett Publishing Company; William Wender, Samson Clothing Store; Richard McCallum and Martin Duffy, Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company.

Looking over the graduates of the class of 1937, we see William Tetreau and John Scahill attending the University of Ottawa, Canada, while John Frydel is at St. Joseph College, New Brunswick; Joseph Bourgue, University of Maine; Louis Renaud, Holy Cross.

Charles Loring is in the office of F. J. O'Hara Company, and H. P. Manning is employed by Cumberland County Power and Light Company; Everett Burke, A. T. Burroughs; Lawrence Connolly, Cole's Express Company; Martin Joyce,, Portland Stove Foundry; Daniel Flaherty, Portland Terminal Company; Matthew Gillaway, Portland Gas Company; Francis Wallace, R. O. Stockman Milk Company; Paul Ruffner, Geo. C. Shaw Company; and Ovila Forest, David Scott Flour Company.

The class of 1936 presents a favorable report. Harry Hayes is attending Holy Cross; A. J. Peverada, Moreau Seminary, Notre Dame, Ind.; Thomas McDonough, Portland Junior College; James Connolly, University of Maine; Richard Walsh, Northeastern Business College; John Dimmer, Holy Cross; Thomas Joyce, University of Ottawa; Alphonse Lucier, University of New Hampshire; Peter Connolly, Providence College; Thomas Brown, Portland Junior College; and Philip Curran is employed by the United States Government, Washington, D. C.

The officers of the Alumni Association for the year of 1940 are': Robert Brennan, '31, President; Robert Hagen, '35, Vice-President; Thomas Riley, '38, Secretary; and Francis Ridge, '38, Treasurer.

An event sponsored by our Alumni and which makes us undergraduates exceptionally proud of them was the banquet given in honor of the basketball team, the State Champs. At this event, to each player of the team, a beautiful wrist watch was presented, a gift that will not soon be forgotten.

We take this opportunity to express our heartfelt gratitude for the numerous and excellent kindnesses extended to us only through your admirable loyalty and worthy desires for the success of your Alma Mater.
